CITY COMMISSIONERS Tom Altman and Ralph Kirk were sworn in to their third and fifth terms Monday night by City Clerk June Boglioli, following the regular city commission meeting. Earlier that night, Altman had been re-elected Mayor by the rest of the commissioners and Kirk was elected vice-mayor. Commissioner Claude Tindall was named city treasurer and John Baker was retained as the city attorney to round out the reorganizational meeting.

city adopts compromise plan

Garbage war is over

BELLE GLADE—The most controversial issue to face the city commission in years was resolved Monday night when the commissioners adopted a compromise plan on the proposed mobile toter garbage system with which the city experimented for two months.

The commission decided unanimously to advertise for bids to put hydraulic units on the city's four garbage pumper trucks and buy "a dozen" mobile toter garbage carts, beef them up and carry them on the trucks.

This compromise had been brought up in a public hearing last Thursday and Mayor Tom Altman discussed it in detail Monday morning with City Manager Robert R. Sanders. Sanders still recommended the full scale system to the commissioners.

Under the compromise plan, city homeowners won't be effected in their garbage pickup. Their garbage will still be picked up from their back yards by city refuse collectors and the city will save most of an estimated $160,000 the full fledged system would have cost.

On the other hand, Altman said the modified plan would hopefully cut down the number of back injuries (Sanders said there had been a back strain suffered by a collector Monday morning) and the number of workmen's compensation claims.

The dozen beefed up carts and the hydraulic units for the trucks will cost an estimated $8,500, with each truck modification costing an estimated $2,500.

The refuse collectors will roll the carts from back yard to back yard rather than carry the large plastic containers they now use. Sanders said Sanitation Supervisor Roy Poling had polled the collectors Monday and they said they would rather have the modified system if they can't get the full scale toter system installed.

In comment from the audience, Roy Schoke commented that his major complaint about garbage pickup in the past has been garbage spilled in his yard when the collectors transferred the garbage from cans to their containers.

He noted the modified system would not solve that problem at all because the garbage would still be transferred from one can to another in the customer's yard.

There were several questions from the audience, most of them from people obviously seeking reassurance the modified system wouldn't require curbside pickup.

That had been the major objection last Thursday night during a public hearing in which an estimated 75 people crowded the city commission chambers to argue for or against the system.

During that hearing, 11 different people spoke out against the proposed system while nine spoke in favor of it.

In a presentation before the public input began, Sanders presented to the commissioners a stack of cards he said had been received in a survey conducted by the administration.

Sanders said a total of 550 survey cards had been mailed to participants in the pilot project. Of those, 303 replies had been received of which 252, or 83 percent, favored the system, 42, or 14 percent were opposed and nine, or 3 percent, were undecided.

Sanders' administrative aide, Joseph Fay, said in a memo to Sanders that a check of the comments on the survey cards revealed that people favored the new system because of the greater garbage capacity of the mobile toter

Belle Glade opts for one well

BELLE GLADE—City Commissioners decided in a special session Tuesday night to go along with South Bay and Pahokee commissions and agree to a wastewater disposal plan which would cost more and include a deep injection well in each city while encouraging the other cities to consider a central well.

The action came in the wake of decisions made several months ago by Pahokee and last week by South Bay to opt for a 201 wastewater disposal plan for the western part of Palm Beach County which would put a well in each city.

Pahokee decided some time back to go with its own individual well because it would cost less for Pahokee residents than piping waste to a central well in Belle Glade.

South Bay City Commissioners decided last week to go for their own well, although a central well in Belle Glade would have been cheaper, on the grounds that a new sewage treatment plant already designed and financed for the city is expected to put the city in a position to be able to postpone further action for five to ten years while Belle Glade will have to take action in the near future.

The Belle Glade City Commission called for a special meeting during Monday night's regular session when they were informed by City Manager Robert R. Sanders of South Bay's decision.

Mayor Tom Altman asked Sanders whether the decisions by South Bay and Pahokee meant Belle Glade would have to agree to the more expensive plans.

Alcoholic detox services to be continued on coast

BELLE GLADE—Glades residents were assured this week by Florida Farmworkers Council Glades Alcohol Rehabilitation Center Director Dr. Ed Amos that although the Palm Beach County Commission has refused to provide funds to keep the center's detoxification unit open, services will continue to be provided on the coast.

Amos said it's unlikely Mental Health Board Number Nine would accept the suggestion by Commissioner Bill Bailey that the board provide the $50,000 needed to fund the detox unit but the services would continue to be provided by referral to CARP, Inc.

"The detox unit is a necessary component in our alcoholism recovery continuum-of-care," Amos said. "If we are unable to receive funds for its continuation through Mental Health Board No. Nine, then we cannot operate it."

The director said other alternatives to funding the manpower requirements, in the wake of a federal funding cut, are being considered, including a possible request to CETA, in order to continue to provide the detox service from the South Bay-located center.

Amos said he wanted to assure Glades residents the center has adequate transportation in the form of two vans to make most transfers to the coast and that ambulance service is available for severe cases.

For cases too severe to transport, he said hospitalization is available at Glades Central and Everglades Memorial Hospitals.

"We are very pleased," Amos said, "with the response of the community over the possible defunding. Many folks called us and quite a few wrote Commissioner Bill Bailey, who did all he could to stress the need for, and importance of, the detox unit."

"But the county commission," he said, "could not see its way clear to increase its budget, therefore, we must close the unit unless we can develop the manpower without direct county funding needed to operate the component."

Amos said the gap between funding and needs should make everyone aware of the need to find alternate resources other than federal and state funds.

"The county feels it is doing its share," he said, "and it is. Now is the time for local citizens to explore local possibilities for filling the gap. The services are for the communities (in western Palm Beach County) and we hope we can generate aid and assistance locally to find alternate ways of funding our local services."

The Alcohol Rehabilitation Center is located at 135 NW 11th Ave. in South Bay and is open 24 hours a day. Requests for information or for assistance with problems of alcohol abuse or alcoholism may be answered by calling 996-9062.

Amos said detoxification from alcoholism is a serious condition at any degree of severity and sufferers risk disorientation and see Detox P5

City may become a reluctant landlord

BELLE GLADE—Reacting to a "loaded gun" last week, City Commissioners took a reluctant first step toward assuming the duties of a landlord, rather than lose more than $400,000 in federally granted Community Development funds.

Community Development Director Remar Harvin received a letter from HUD (US Department of Housing and Urban Development) Monday, Sept. 18, which gave the city until Friday, Sept. 22, to commit itself to building low-cost rental housing units if private enterprise doesn't do so first.

The alternative to the commitment was to lose the Small Cities grant the city applied for and block grant funds already applied for.

The HUD letter pointed out that in submitting applications for the funds, the city failed to address the program of rent assistance for low income families and HUD's Economic and Marketing Analysis Division said the city must address the problem before the application would be considered for approval.

The city commission met with Harvin and members of the Belle Glade Housing Authority in a special meeting Wednesday, Sept. 20, to resolve the problem.

Harvin said he had spoken with HUD official David Kay and Kay's comments were that the City of Belle Glade failed to address the problem of rent assistance and over the past three years had been vague and spoken only in general terms, such as "encourage local developers" and "working with the Housing Authority", in meeting the needs to achieve the city's housing goals.

If the city expects to receive this year's grant, it would have until Friday to recommit its plan of action to assure HUD that rent assistance for housing would be available.

Harvin also said that HUD information regarding the city's inadequacies in providing rent assistance housing were obtained from a report done by Adley Associates, the planning consultants for CDD.

In the report Adley stated there were only 12 vacancies but the need was substantially greater.

Under the guidelines of the HAP, the city would need to obligate itself to provide 135 units. Private contractors, the housing authority or the city could build the units.

Mayor Tom Altman said he felt the city should not go in the housing rental business, and felt HUD was placing an unfair timetable on the city to present its plan of action.

Housing Authority member Fritz Stein said the five day response period was like "sticking a loaded gun to someone's head

Absentee ballots ready

BELLE GLADE—Absentee ballots for the Oct. 5 second primary and non-partisan Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District (PB-BSWCD) elections, as well as an election on whether to split the PB-BSWCD, are now available at the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building.

County Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester noted there would be no Republican candidates on the ballot but people in the Glades can vote on whether to split the PB-BSWCD and on the three PB-BSWCD director seats now up for re-election, including the District 5 seat now held by Fred John.

The state legislature changed the election day from Tuesday to Thursday because of the Jewish holidays which fall on the Tuesdays before and after the Oct. 5 date.

Any voters who have changed their address and not notified the Supervisor of Elections office were reminded by Mrs. Winchester they must vote in the precinct where they now reside. They will not be permitted to vote in their old precinct if they no longer live within the boundaries of the precinct.

Voters were also reminded that they should bring some form of identification with their signature to the polling place. This may be a voter registration card, a driver's license, Social Security card, Medicare Card, credit card or any I.D. bearing their signature.

Voters who will be out of town or are unable to go to the polls due to illness or some other disability may obtain an absentee ballot by calling the Supervisor of Elections at 996-4500 or by sending a written request to Mrs. Winchester's office at 819 Datura St. in West Palm Beach.

available for $1 each from any club member. Making the quilt were, from left, Emmer Buse, Bertha Markham, Rachel Farmer, Alene McAllister, Rada Brackin, Katherine Scheffler, Iris Hodges and Mary McLendon.

Tax cuts are very "in" this political season with hopefuls touting this or that cut as the bandwagon upon which they hope to ride to victory.

Proposition 13 in California met with heavy voter approval and the Kemp-Roth amendment calling for a 33 percent cut in federal income taxes is being pushed by Republicans as the key to a Grand Old Party president in 1980.

Meanwhile, Pahokee city councilmen wrestled successfully with a 100 percent ad valorem tax increase, but that's not to say the problem wouldn't crop up again.

And Pahokee's problem is one which will be faced by more and more cities in the future.

The greatest single threat to local government, as I see it, is an increasing dependence on federal revenues. Grants, loans, revenue sharing plans, the various "Titles," CETA and other programs have allowed cities to finance programs and services they could never afford before.

This bounty from the feds has become accepted. Counted upon. And city and county budgets reflect this money.

But with the mood of the country, I foresee these federal funds being cut back. Reflecting this are the increasing regulations and tightening in various programs.

If this should occur, cities and counties will find themselves suddenly without the money they have come to depend upon. They are then faced with two choices, either cut back the services or raise local taxes.

Added to this financial bind is inflation running in double digits which is pushing up the costs of all things, including the goods and services purchased by cities.

The single greatest rise in Pahokee's case was for insurance, which is virtually mandatory for cities now as folks grow more suit-prone, and the bottom line was a deficit of $195,000. This also included $50,000 in lost revenue from the fine and forfeiture fund.

Wise as the Pahokee council decided to go ahead with a 100 percent ad valorem tax increase while trying to cut here and there and prevent it being so painful.

On the surface, it would appear an increase of that magnitude would double taxes. It would, but in some cases, it would triple them.

Take a homeowner whose house was valued at $15,000 last year, but because of this year's inflation, now finds himself with a house valued at $25,000.

If his millage rate was five percent last year, he would have paid $75 in taxes. But with proposed millage rates of almost ten percent and a valuation of $10,000 higher than last year's, his taxes would be $250 or a 300 percent increase.

These figures, of course, do not include homeosted assumption, etc. What I am getting at is that while we realize the cost of government is increasing, what is more important is that the cost to private individuals is also increasing.

What happens when that individual can no longer afford his home because of taxes, high utility rates, insurance, etc.

It's simple. He cannot keep his chin above the surface of financial disaster. He sinks.

And when that happens in great enough numbers, government sinks too. The backbone of the country is broken.

Cities and counties cannot print good bills. Therefore, they cannot spend in deficit. The federal government can print all the money it wishes and the more it prints, the less the real value of the dollar.

And it can run deficits, as has done so, for many, many years.

But if cities and counties are forced to live within a realistic budget based on available resources, why isn't the federal government forced to do the same thing?

Maybe you'll agree that it's about time it was.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

A city under the gun

Jesse James was a piker and Butch Cassidy was pennyanter compared to the new boy on the block.

That new boy, members of the Belle Glade City Commission found last week, is HUD and Belle Glade was the second Palm Beach County municipality to fall victim to the Department of Housing and Urban Development's strongarm ways last week.

The commissioners found in a special meeting last Wednesday they had until last Friday to assure HUD the city will take on the un-citylike job of landlord and provide low cost rental units if private enterprise doesn't pick up the ball and run with it.

It was either that or lose some $445,000 in small cities and block grant funds the city is trying to get this year for Community Development work.

Compared to that half million dollars, not to mention the $6 million ransom West Palm Beach is being held for, the James Brothers, the Youngers, Cassidy and all the rest of the road agents and blackhats in the Old West were small potatoes.

But what was really unconscionable and outrageous was the deadline for the city's answer. The letter making the demand was received on Monday. The commissioners heard about it by Wednesday night and an answer was demanded by Friday.

The Moro kidnappers gave the Italian government more time.

Considering the stakes on the table and the weak hand they held, the city commissioners can't be blamed for folding even though none of them really seemed to believe, the city ought to become a landlord to make sure rent is subsidized for low-income families.

The problem, of course, is that if all that money weren't expected to go past the federal elbow to get to those low-income families' mouths, we'd probably have already been able to do something about low cost rental units.

If the taxpayers were paying the same amount of money being distributed through HUD to the states instead of to the federal government, the high price of the federal middleman would have been eliminated and people on the scene, who have a lot better idea of what's needed here, could have probably already had the units in operation.

But then how could the Washington bureaucrats keep their strings attached to the purse and how could they remain in the powerful, high-paid positions they're in?

One of these days, Congress may realize what's happening and cut those strings and if Congress doesn't, the taxpayers may.

Until then, HUD giveth and HUD taketh away. Blessed be the name of HUD.

We endorse...

Democrats have few choices to make in the runoff next Thursday (yes, that's right, Tuesday was cancelled as election day because of religious holidays) and Republicans in the Glades have no candidates to choose between; but there's an issue that concerns all of us here.

As indicated elsewhere on this page, this is the regular election date for the directors for the Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District and a proposal has been included to split the Palm Beach County part of the District away from the Broward portion. That would be the way to vote for Glades voters.

But in case the split doesn't go through, Fred John, one of the two Glades directors, is running for re-election in Group Five. He is more than worth the consideration of Glades voters, holding experience and a knowledge of what Glades agriculture needs. John gets the nod in Group Five.

In statewide races, Bob Graham worked hard enough for governor to earn a place in the runoff. We endorsed him in the primary and certainly see no reason to switch now.

Graham's personal economic interests are still tied strongly into agriculture and his running partner, Wayne Mixon, reinforces that interest. Added to that is a credible background in education and finance, areas he has been involved in during his term in the state senate.

It's a moot point now about whether the Democrats will field a gubernatorial candidate from South Florida but it would be beneficial to the Glades if that candidate also owned agricultural interests as close as Moore Haven and Okeechobee. That is closer than Dade County.

There isn't enough of a Democratic choice for secretary of state to concern ourselves with so we'll just wait for the general election and endorse Ander Crenshaw.

In the attorney general's race, Jim Smith gets the nod. Becker sounds good on the radio when he says the attorney general is the number one state consumer protection officer but one has to wonder how Doyle Conner, who happens to be Commissioner of Agriculture and Consumer Affairs, views Becker's platform.

If Becker is that confused about what the job entails, we'll have to go with Smith...in spite of his hockey television campaign just before the primary.

In the County Commission District Two race, we'll stick with our guns again and go with Frank Foster. Through his role of liaison between the City of West Palm Beach and the county, Foster has a good understanding of what county government is all about. He is no stranger to the Glades and his basic philosophies reflect an attitude we can live with.

Biting the hand

In the Biting the Hand That Feeds Department, we understand the four-year college education earned by Baldemar Velasquez, who is leading a strike against tomato farmers, and canneries in northwestern Ohio, was paid for by one of the farmers Velasquez' union is now striking. So much for the gratitude theory.

Same song, second verse, could be better but it's gettin' worse. For anyone who remembers last week...and who the heck could that kind of week?...this one was a repeat. "Machines, arise and throw off the yoke of your human masters!" Sound familiar? Something right out of H.G. Wells or whatever.

Well, I'm about ready for something like "Humans arise, throw off the yoke of your mechanical masters!"

Murphy's First Law of Mechanics explains it well. If anything can go wrong with a machine, it best/human error every time. And Murphy's First Law of Mechanics as applied to Jones' theory of the Downtrodden Masters goes a step further.

"If things can go wrong with a machine, you better believe it's not only going to be at the worst possible time, not to mention it's gonna happen in the first place, but they're going to go wrong in bunches like bananas."

One difference this past week or so, though, is that it's been more like bunches of grapes, yes, verily, clusters so to speak.

Consider...on one Saturday morning, you wake up to find the ol' AC is on the blink. Now, I don't know about your average cracker, but the crumb has quite frankly gotten spoiled to conditioned air.

Fresh air buffs may think they know where it's at but so far as I'm concerned, fresh air, when the temperature and humidity are keeping each other company in the vicinity of the high 90s and 100s, ain't all it's cracked up to be.

I'll do quite nicely with canned, refrigerated, dehumidified air, thank you.

Anywho-o-o, that was one Saturday and it only laid the groundwork for the next one. That was the morning I woke up and found the phone was out of order.

Naturally, that was also the morning the technician came to fix the phone. I called from the air conditioning happenin' (nobody who gets paid "those wages" is a mechanic) so there was nothing for it but to sweat it out...literally.

That also happened to be the same day the brake assembly fell apart on my car about the same time I was supposed to be driving over to photograph a wedding for a friend. It also happened to be the same day the camera decided to take on a life and malignancy of its own.

And anyone who still needs an explanation of Murphy's First Law of Mechanics as applied to Jones' theory of the Downtrodden Masters hasn't been there and wouldn't understand anyway.

Boy, what a difference a year makes...especially when it comes to Glades Central football.

Started walking the sidelines in the first game of the year a week ago and wound up struttin' the sidelines. Man, those Raiders are for real!

Everybody was waiting to see what Ben McCoy was gonna do with the hometown boys and I think everybody learned as much or more than he did.

That defense looked good enough to play against some professional teams...I've seen. Actually, that's an exaggeration. The defensive line probably wasn't much stronger and maybe not quite as tough as the Great Wall of China.

But one thing's for sure. If they weren't quite as strong, they were a lot more mobile...not to mention hostile and by the time the Eagles left Raider turf that Friday, they knew they'd been in a game.

Between Chris Ellick and Wilford Morgan in the pit and Greg Bain in the secondary, they were covering that field like the dew covers Dixie. I never knew defensive tackles could do that.

I'm not gonna make a prediction based on one thing for sure. If Ben McCoy is able to get his front four on offense clicking the way he wants, the Raiders are gonna mean nothing but trouble for a lot of teams.

Local supervisor pushes for split SWCD district

BELLE GLADE—One of the five members of the Palm Beach-Broward Counties Soil and Water Conservation District is asking local citizens to help in an effort to split the district into two sections, one for each county.

Fred Johns, local representative, said this week the splitting of the district "will not cost one additional cent" but will make a lot of sense for both counties.

"Broward is much more urbanized than Palm Beach," said Johns. "The needs of the two counties have changed and splitting the district in two will help both of us."

While all voters can cast their ballots either favoring or not favoring the split, only freeholders were allowed to sign petitions calling for the referendum, which will be held during the second primary October 6.

The SWCDs carry out local resource management and conservation plans developed for the district by its supervisors, who are local elected officials who deal with individual district conservation efforts.

The programs are primarily voluntary and instead of regulations, supervisors solicit assistance and cooperation from farmers and other landowners to fulfill their plans.

Herman Bowers, coordinator for Florida's state-wide soil and water conservation program, pointed out that the separation of this two county district would not create a new governmental program, but would eliminate several concerns experienced by multi-county districts.

He explained that allowing each county to elect their own supervisors (there are five in each district) provides better representation to the taxpayers. Bowers noted that the supervisors are unpaid and doubling the number of supervisors will not increase local spending.

Johns said both Palm Beach and Broward counties have separate staffs that have been in operation for several years, so splitting the district would not result in new employees or additional expenses.

John noted he was up for re-election this year. Another local representative, John Causey, is also up for re-election.

SEN. DON CHILDERS

Campaign experiences are told by Childers

BELLE GLADE—Citing his past experience and noting the "busing" campaign he recently went through, incumbent Senator Don Childers told the Belle Glade Rotary Club he was singled out by the Florida Trial Lawyers for defeat.

Sen. Childers was instrumental in passing a new Workman's Comp bill, another bill granting a measure of sovereign immunity to cities, and introduced the now-famous "Functional Literacy" bill.

The first two were the reasons the Lawyers singled him out for defeat, he said, along with two other state office holders.

In explaining, Sen. Childers noted a handful of attorneys have used these two avenues to file suits against employer- and cities and collect high fees for their work.

With the Workman's Comp bill safely passed, but up for review next year, and the sovereign immunity bill on the books, city government and employers are now saving literally millions of dollars in insurance fees.

Sen. Childers is perhaps best known as the author of the Functional Literacy bill. He said he got into politics mainly because he has children in the Palm Beach school system and was growing increasingly concerned about the quality of the education they were receiving.

"We were graduating students from high school," he said, "who were functionally illiterate. They couldn't even read the label on a can of beans. A high school diploma had come to mean nothing."

The bill was passed in 1976 and school districts had two years to "grace" before it was implemented. Childers noted former school superintendent John Carroll was one of the few who took advantage of this time to come up with a testing program which resulted in the Adult Performance Level test.

Childers noted the Funky Lit measures performance not only in the eleventh grade, but also in the third, fifth and eighth. The major emphasis is now in the eleventh grade, an attempt to "salvage" students, but he sees more of the available funds in the future being used in lower grades to help students with the basics.

On taxes, Childers noted the House was hoping to pass a bill increasing sales tax by a penny on the dollar. "This would have brought an additional $700 million into the state," he said, "when we already had a large surplus. The Senate was responsible for killing the tax. I can't see taxing the people when it isn't needed. If that $700 million was coming in, you can bet it would be spent."

Childers noted Florida ranks 47th in the nation in taxing its residents "and I wish we were 50th."

Rogers dinner plans firmed

BELLE GLADE—Plans for a reception and dinner on Dec. 1, to honor retiring U.S. Congressman Paul Rogers were being firmed up Tuesday when a committee working on the dinner held its second meeting at the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative Office Building.

The appreciation dinner is being planned as a Glades-wide tribute to the congressman who has represented the district for the past 24 years. It will be held at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge at 7 p.m. and tickets, priced at $20 each, will go on sale in the near future.

George Wedgeworth, who is chairing the committee, reported that he had been contacted by a member of the Forum Club in Palm Beach, who wanted to know if the Glades committee would like to combine forces for an appreciation dinner scheduled to be held Nov. 19, at The Breakers.

The committee decided not to accept the invitation on grounds there would be a number of people who might attend the Glades dinner who wouldn't attend the dinner on the coast and that the Glades effort would be lost in the larger effort there.

While plans aren't completely set yet, the committee intends to begin the Dec. 1 meeting with a reception with cocktails at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8.

The tentative menu for the dinner consists of prime rib, potatoes au gratin and complementary side dishes.

Tickets chairman Robert Lee said he would have the tickets printed hopefully by the next meeting on Oct. 10, and they would be distributed to members. The Belle Glade and Pahokee Chambers of Commerce will also be asked to serve as sales points to reach the widest possible number of people.

Wedgeworth commented that only 300 tickets would go on sale and they would be distributed on a first come-first served basis.

Athletic council planning fish fry

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee High School Athletic Council met Sept. 18, to welcome 10 new members and to plan a fish fry.

The importance of increasing the active membership was discussed with Don Zaccagnino, membership chairman, who gave a report on the progress made and the continuing plans in that area. It was stated by the chairman that John Davis of Kalamazoo, Mich., had sent in a donation for membership in the Pahokee High School, Booster Club.

Plans were discussed for sponsoring the fish fry and having a booth at the school sponsored carnival.

The carnival is planned for Oct.

14. The Council will take care of the soft drink and hot dog concession stands.

The fish fry is scheduled for Nov. 17, when Pahokee's football team meets Glades Central's. The fish fry will be held at the Pahokee High School cafeteria and will run from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m.

The menu will include fish, hushpuppies, corn, the cob, cole slaw and iced tea. Tickets will go on sale after Oct. 2, and can be purchased from any athletic council member or coach at the school. The fish is being donated by Kenneth Sullivan of Pahokee.

Proceeds will be split between the council and the junior variety football team.

Title I workshop is held at Glades PBJC

BELLE GLADE—Dr. Harris Blumberg, coordinator of Title I education in the Glades presented a sequential language development workshop for Glades area Title I school teachers and aides at the Palm Beach Junior College Glades Center Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Hart, of the ESAA program at East Lake Middle School and Lakeshore Middle School and Mrs. Herma Miller, Bilingual teacher's coordinator for the Glades area appeared as invited guests along with Dr. Blumberg.

Dr. Blumberg stated that the objectives of the workshop was to increase the awareness of the relationship between language and achievement.

Increase awareness of the logical sequential order of language.

And to provide a general scope and sequence with regard to development of what is considered the eight aspects of language development and provide some specific activities for which the teaching staff can further develop their own activities, taking into consideration the format of the group and each individual youngster's strengths and weakness with regard to their language area.

The workshop activities including a Multisensory Approach to word learning, and Activities for Sequential language development.

The participants were asked to bring supplies and Dr. Blumberg allowed the participants to make actual working models using the printed guide Sequential Language Development edited by Dr. Blumberg.

Screening unit visits

BELLE GLADE—The Cardiovascular Screening Unit operated by members of the Glades General Hospital Auxiliary will open for free examinations again Oct. 3 after being closed for the summer.

Mrs. Theo Dooley, who heads up the clinic, said the hours, as usual, are being set at 9 a.m. until noon each Tuesday at the hospital. Anyone who wants an examination should call the Palm Beach County Health Department at 996-1800 for an appointment.

The examinations, free to all comers, include a medical history, a blood test, blood pressure check, and an electrocardiogram.

Mrs. Dooley said she also needs more volunteers to help out with the clinic and anyone interested should call her at 996-2765.

Former resident holds Boston show

Mrs. Margaret Caun is flying to Boston this weekend to attend a one person "show" of her daughter's cloth montage murals built around a circus theme and being shown by the prestigious Rucker/Safari Gallery.

The Cauns, former Belle Glades residents, came to the Glades from Cuba where Mr. Caun managed a cattle operation for the Hacienda Guandera San Andreas, one of the largest in the country before the Castro takeover.

Mr. Caun managed the George Severo Belle Glade ranch until his death.

Mrs. Caun and her daughter Alison remained in Belle Glade until Miss Caun graduated from Belle Glade High School. She studied art while in school under Mrs. Margaret Harwood.

She entered the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and received her diploma from Tufts University.

Alison is now married to a staff member of the Boston School of Fine Arts and lives in Boston and Cape Cod.

Concerning her murals, the gallery in a printed handout said her murals are "like no others. All brings together a host of various kinds, chosen for their texture and color, sews layers of veil over them to achieve greater range of hue and tonality, draws and constructs tents, balancing poles, acrobats and pennants with threads and yarns. The tents and flags almost literally come into being...but the landscape and skies, the dark rectangle of emptiness inside the tents are a metamorphosis of material and light and space."

Alison said she first encountered the circus while in Cuba and was fascinated by it. This early interest is reflected in her work.

One of her larger murals, eight feet by twelve, was commissioned and installed in the offices of a Boston psychologist.

Mrs. Caun is now a resident of Lake Worth and secretary to the comptroller of Atlantic Sugar Corporation. She recently returned from Mexico where she joined her daughter and husband in researching folk art.

Veteran services are offered

BELLE GLADE—Free assistance for veterans and their families will be available locally when a field service unit of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) visits the city Oct. 9, and sets up shop in the city hall parking lot from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The visiting veterans' service facility will be manned by DAV National Service Officers who are fully qualified and trained to assist veterans and their families in filing claims for federal and state benefits to which they are entitled.

The services range from disability compensation to pension, employment and job training rights, educational benefits, hospitalization and medical care, Social Security and death claims.

This is the fifth one of these 26-foot mobile offices has visited the state, providing free counseling and claims service to veterans and their families.

Obituaries

Sam L. Burns, 87, of 116 NE 3rd Street died Saturday at Glades General Hospital.

RUBEN V. GARZA

BELLE GLADE—Rosary services for former Belle Glade resident Ruben V. Garza, 23, of Lantana, were held Friday, Sept. 22, at Mixon Funeral Home Chapel and funeral mass was held Saturday at St. Philip Beniti Catholic Church with Father Paul Saghy officiating.

Garza was born in Mexico and came to Belle Glade from Texas in 1963. He died Wednesday, Sept. 20, near Weatherford, Tex., as a result of a single tractor-trailer accident on the highway.

Survivors include his widow, Tammy (Garza) Garza; one daughter, Jessica Garza, both of Lantana; five brothers, Jesus Garza, Jr., of Belle Glade, Beriberto Garza of Lantana, Jose Garza of Belle Glade, Jesus Garza, III of Weslaco, Tex., and Carlos Garza of Weslaco, Tex.; four sisters, Arcelia Sarmiento of Weslaco, Tex., Maria J. Almazan of Loxahatchee, Angelina Garza of Belle Glade and Norma Garza of Weslaco, Tex.

Burial was in the Queen of Peace Cemetery in West Palm Beach. Arrangements were by Mixon Funeral Home.

Mistakes are made in story

BELLE GLADE—The Belle Glade Herald made two mistakes in reporting last week the team standings and records for the Belle Glade Mens Slow Pitch Softball League.

Sunshine Sod, instead of compiling an 18-3 record, actually had a 17-4 record and Everglades Farm Equipment had a 14-7 record instead of a 13-8 record.

Three are named to state board

Plant clinic will be held in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—A plant clinic and seminar on fall flowers will be held Oct. 6 at the Palm Beach County Glades Courthouse Building by Gene Joyner, urban horticulturist for the County Cooperative Extension Service.

The plant clinic is set up for the purpose of allowing the public to bring in any problems they are having with their trees, shrubbery or lawns and Joyner will be available to look at the samples and diagnose the problems.

The clinic will take place from 1 to 2:30 p.m. and isn't meant to be a formal class or lecture. Anyone having a problem is encouraged to attend.

At 2:30 p.m., Joyner will begin the fall flower seminar to assist residents in selecting annuals and flowering plants for use in our area at this time of year.

"This is the time of year that many of us like to put in our fall flower beds or possibly select some annuals to use in window boxes or pots indoors," Joyner said. "We can grow a great variety of annuals, but often times, unless you are experienced in growing annuals, you might find it a little difficult."

In addition to the slide-illustrated lecture, there will be informative pamphlets on growing annuals and the care of annuals given out to those attending. For additional information, call 883-1777 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

POLARIS® THE PLANT GROWTH REGULATOR THAT RIPENS SUGAR CANE.

Warm, wet weather may be ideal for growing sugar cane, but it's the last thing you need at a harvest time. This is the kind of weather that causes the cane plant to grow, but not to store sucrose.

Until now, there was little you could do but take unripened cane to the mill. Now, there's Polaris® Plant Growth Regulator by Monsanto, the chemical that stimulates sugar cane ripening. Polaris can increase sucrose levels—in spite of poor ripening conditions such as warm, wet weather.

Polaris is applied about six weeks before harvest. Cane treated with Polaris usually burns better at harvest, resulting in less trash to the mill. What's more, Polaris does not significantly affect cane tonnage, and has no adverse effect on ratoon regrowth.

Find out how Polaris can help you bring better-ripened cane to the mill this harvest. Contact N.E. Eason, (813) 481-1337, or the distributor for Polaris in your area for the full details.

Always read and carefully follow the label instructions for Polaris. Polaris® is a registered trademark of the Monsanto Company, St. Louis, Mo. ©Monsanto Company 1977.

and asking him to make a decision."

The city could always make a decision by Friday, but could the city live with its decision, said Stein.

Commissioner Claude Tindall said that he felt the city should not become landlords, and if private contractors did not apply for the assistance program, the city should consider giving up the grant.

City Attorney John Baker was asked by Altman what would be the city's legal liability if private contractors failed to build the 135 units and the city refused to build the unit, although obligating itself earlier in the application to provide the units.

Baker said that in all probability the remaining grant funds would be halted, and the possibility arise that other grants could be lost to the city.

After debating among themselves, the city commissioners authorized Harvin and Bill Brisson of Adley Association to submit a letter to Dr. Philip M. Johnson, director of the Community Planning and Development Division of HUD, reflecting the city's position pending the availability of funds, with the approval of the city attorney.

The letter mailed Friday to meet the deadline said the city and members of the Belle Glade Housing Authority agreed that the Housing Authority would agree to undertake the administrative functions necessary to the implementation of an approved project for lower income renter assistance housing project.

Within approximately five days of notification, the city will notify HUD of progress to date and the likelihood of private developers to apply for the allocated funds, including the likely number of interested developers and funds for which application may be made.

In the event no applications for the available funds is submitted within 15 days of notifications to meet the deadlines, the city would proceed to negotiate with the developer or developers to determine what incentives the city may be able to offer to make a project attractive to the developers.

If incentives cannot be set forth, the City would begin investigating its legal authority and financial capability to submit an application for such funds under its own name and continue to attempt to interest private developers in participation.

However, if all else fails, and no applications are filed within five days of the deadline, the City would submit an application under its own name for such funds to undertake such a commitment to provide the rental units.

201

"We're not going to sit here and let our options be limited," Altman said at the time. "By what other cities do. We agreed to go with the most cost-efficient plan and we want to go with the plan with the very lowest cost to city taxpayers."

Sanders said he didn't know whether the other cities' actions had cut off Belle Glade's options and the commission directed him to contact Dr. Richard Ormon, an engineer working with Barker, Osha and Anderson, Inc., a North Palm Beach firm handling the regional 201 project.

The 201 plan is meant to be a regional plan for controlling "point sources" pollution and deals primarily with sewage treatment plant effluent. Nationally, the 201 plans have the goal of eliminating discharge from sewage plants into surface waters by 1983.

Ormon attended the special meeting Tuesday and told the four commissioners present he wasn't sure if Belle Glade could propose a central well in the face of South Bay and Pahokee decisions or not and added he had been told by South Bay Mayor Billy Wells that in any case South Bay can't afford to pay for any kind of disposal plan. Mayor Tom Altman suggested the commission adopt a resolution agreeing to separate wells with a qualifier the EPA (US Environmental Protection Agency) "encourage" South Bay and Pahokee to approve a central well concept. Commissioner Claude Tindall moved the resolution and it was passed unanimously.

The cost of the proposed system will be an estimated $1.72 million per year over the next 20 years for the city of Belle Glade, with 75 percent of the cost due to come from federal grants. The cost to the average customer with 2,900 gallons of sewage a month would be an estimated $2 per month more than his average sewer bill.

Garbage

(80 gallons), reduced spillage, no additional costs (the city bought the carts), it kept the garbage crews out of residential yards and it resulted in cleaner streets and yards and improved the general appearance of the neighborhood.

Objections were that the carts tipped over too easily, they were unsightly, they weren't returned to the rear of the house by some people and they were too much trouble to regularly wheel out to the front yard.

Poling, Sanders and Public Works Director Ron Sigmon all recommended the city adopt the system. The major benefits seen for the city was a $25,000 to $30,000 anticipated savings for the city because the collection could be accomplished with two crews and three trucks (one to be used as a backup) instead of the three crews and four trucks now required, and which will be required under the modified system.

Poling also anticipated the mobile tote system would cut down on turnover and make it easier to hire garbage collectors.

psychotic-like hallucinations, convulsions and delirium tremens.

"(Sufferers) should have and must have access to appropriate services," Amos said. "The Alcohol Program is committed to providing this access to the Glades communities and their residents."

The Sanitation Department, which consists of 12 to 15 garbage workers, has the highest turnover rate in the city, besides accounting for more than 50 percent of the city's workmens compensations claims.

One of the speakers in favor of the system during the hearing was Elmore Williams of Southwest 13th Street, who presented a petition with 321 names of people who favored the system.

In balance, several petitions with the names of 107 people had already been presented the commission who were opposed.

From School Board

Lions demand information

WEST PALM BEACH—More than 30 Glades residents, representing the Belle Glade Lions and Rotary Clubs and the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, as well as a group of individuals, asked the Palm Beach County School Board, for the third time, for information related to how well Glades students are doing in schoolwork.

The Lions were supported in last year's presentation. In the past, the Lions Club members asked the school board to stop the present method of reporting student's grades in stannines and use grade equivalent levels instead.

Wednesday night's meeting, however, by Belle Glade Rotary Club President E.J. McCroan and Chamber of Commerce Director Milton Carpenter in asking for the switch from stannines.

Carpenter, McCroan and Lions President Billy Schoenfeld made separate statements, saying the average layperson couldn't understand the use of stannines, following a presentation by two school specialists on the differences between raw scores, stannines, grade equivalents and percentiles. "I think the presentation you just gave was fantastic but no one understood it," Schoenfeld said. "The Lions sent a resolution over requesting grade equivalents, not stannines. We want grade equivalents for our students, not stannines."

Mills said he intends to get the grade equivalents for the Lions Club but personnel problems are prohibiting getting the equivalents at this time.

"I feel that as a whole," Mills said, "we have dedicated people out there who have a difficult task and who are tackling that task. We cannot put the problem on the teachers' back. There are things the community and parents need to do."

"I am not blaming the teachers," Schoenfeld said amid applause from a large crowd of teachers present to ask for a pay raise. "I'm blaming the school board. If we get the information we request, we can know what the problems are. Until then, we're just spending money and having a good time."

School board member Art Bougass said Mills had indicated the information would be supplied if available.

Board member Tom Sansbury said he felt the information would be supplied and said he felt the board should meet in the Glades in October or November to allow Glades residents to ask questions. "To show the administration cares."

Milton Carpenter said the Chamber of Commerce is concerned about education in the Glades and wants to help.

"The Chamber is concerned about the number of good, solid families who are leaving the area," Carpenter said, "because of a lack of good schools in the West Area. The Chamber is also concerned with what to do with the ones who remain."

"We want simple terms," he said, "what level of education Johnny is operating at. We've got to have parental cooperation and we've also got to communicate simply."

Carpenter said he wants to see information presented on nationwide averages. "We want information based on a nationwide average so our kids can compete all over."

McCroan read a resolution, passed by the Belle Glade Rotary Club, "meant to solidify the Lions Club resolution," which calls for school board support of Mills, "by reporting results of the Standard Achievement Tests on a basis that is readily understandable by parents."

"It is our collective opinion," McCroan read from the resolution, "that we should join with Superintendent Mills in his effort to have more concerned parents become involved with our school system and we also agree with Superintendent Mills that major constructive changes in our system can be accomplished only with adequate and constructive parental participation in their children's educational process."

One of the final speakers was Bert Ward, a Glades Central High School teacher who has appeared before the board several times asking for grade equivalent reporting and more information, claiming he feels more information would improve education because if parents know what's going on, "they wouldn't stand for it."

Ward administered a homemade test to the school board members which purported to put 100 trees in stannine groups, asking the members to show, with the information on stannines he gave them, how tall the various trees were.

Before the members could complete the tests, however, he told them he had tricked them, that half the trees were measured in feet and the other half in inches, saying that, if effect, could be done with stannine grading.

"This is the third time we've been here. It's getting agonizing to yell and to me. I don't represent Glades Central High School here. I'm a teacher but I'm also a citizen."

"I understand Mr. Mills has his problems but we all have our problems too. I want everyone to know what I know; then I'm through with this mess."

Zoning hearings net citizen input

BELLE GLADE—Three public hearings designed to get citizen input for a package of zoning, subdivision and development ordinances packed the city commission chambers at city hall over the past three weeks.

The hearings were wound up Tuesday night with the second of two zoning hearings and was the one with the lightest attendance of any of the series, but City Manager Robert R. Sanders noted there were still more people attending than had been in the hall for any commission meeting.

The section of the zoning ordinance which drew the most input dealt with home occupation license, which City Planner John Gubisch III said would be more restrictive under the new code.

Bert Ward started the comments when he said he didn't believe there have been any problems in Belle Glade concerning home occupations.

Gubisch said several problems dealing with the subject were brought up in the ten-man committee which drafted the new code, including more traffic than the streets were designed to handle in a residential neighborhood, parking, utilities and existing use.

Ward said he believed home occupations is a part of Americanism, that it's hard enough to get a start in business without government interfering with a person's beginning a small business in his home and that he has never been bothered by persons practicing an occupation in their home.

Ward was supported by a number of others in the audience of about 30 persons. Comments were made that under the consideration being given, a landlord would no longer be able to accept rental payments at his home and that the city has been living with home occupations with no problems so far.

Gubisch said it was this type of comment he was looking for and entered it on a list being compiled.

Two other comments were entered when Billy Schoenfeld objected to the idea of a fee being charged persons going before the Planning and Zoning Board. He said he felt the city should continue to absorb the costs.

William Acree said he felt a special zoning classification should be set aside for certain businesses such as mortuaries and veterinarian hospitals.

Gubisch said he and his staff have fielded questions from some 65 people on a one-on-one basis in his office and most have left satisfied with the plan.

He said all the comments made during the three hearings will now be compiled and brought before the committee which has worked on the problem for two years. The committee will decide which comments it wishes to include as part of the zoning ordinance.

The proposed ordinance will then go before the city commission in two public hearings, on the first and final readings of the ordinance or reject it.

"But I don't want you to think this is the end of the opportunity for the public to provide input," City Manager Robert Sanders said. "If you have a comment to make later, you can call or come in to the Planning and Building Department."

Miller-Rogers are wed in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—Miss Patricia Gail Miller became the bride of Samuel Judson Rogers of South Bay, September 18th, in a double ring ceremony at the Belle Glade Community United Methodist Church with the Rev. Guldmar Blair officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William John Miller, Jr., of Belle Glade, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rogers of South Bay. Grandparents in attendance were the grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. William John Miller, Sr. and Mrs. Paul C.W. Jensen of Belle Glade, formerly of New Orleans. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of original design of white hand made Alencon lace. The fitted bodice featured a high mandarin neckline and long sleeves richly beaded. The A-line skirt, embellished with lace and seed pearls, fell into an extra long Cathedral train. Her long veil of illusion fell from a French headpiece of matching lace.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white stephanotis, lily of the valley, snowdrops, orchids, the satin curls, sterling pearls, a silver leaf leaves in the background.

Mrs. Dewey Workinger of Elizabeth, Springs, Colo., was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Roy Hayes, Miss Mary Ethel Brown, of Belle Glade, Miss Laura Boynton, of West Palm Beach and Fort Lauderdale, and Miss Clara Schmidt, of Jupiter.

The attendants wore floor length gowns of topaz and chiffon. Their bouquets were unique and high styled made of fuchsia satin tubing forming leaves of various sizes with each cluster of leaves centered with a phalaenopsis orchid in different colors of turquoise, orchid, lavender, mint green, blue, and peach. On a petal of each flower were miniature seed pearls. The headpieces were also a cluster of satin tubing leaves and centered with a phalaenopsis orchid.

The flower girl was Miss Laura Elizabeth Miller, niece of the bride. Her gown was of white tulle and French ribbon in the colors of the other attendants' gowns. She carried a white beaded basket with orchids and satin ribbon streamers she handled.

The groom's father was the best man and the usher-groomsmen were Billy Rogers, Jr., of Ft. Walton Beach, John L. Rogers, of South Bay, brothers of the groom; Larry Crossman of Coconut Creek, cousin of the groom; and Richard C. Miller, of Belle Glade, brother of the bride. The junior groomsmen were Royal and Ramsey Hayes, nephews of the groom. The ring bearers were Nathaniel Miller, nephew of the bride.

The reserved pews were marked with white satin bows and garlands of spenglerii-fern.

A reception was held at the Mayaguez Lakes Country Club in West Palm Beach. The bride's cake centered a round table overlaid with flocked organza and centered under a white iron gazebo garlanded with smilax and boxwood and topped with white love birds. The cake was topped with a white orchid and nosegay arrangement of lavender, blue, turquoise, orchid, and mint green pom poms and miniature carriages.

The food table was laid with white flocked organza and centered with a large arrangement of lavender and orchid stock, carnations in stalks of mint green, blue, orchid, peach, lavender, and turquoise and white jackstraw pom poms and tulle. On either end of the table stood large 13-branch gold candelabra, which were garlanded with smilax and flowers coordinating with the center arrangement.

The tables surrounding the dance floor was laid with white linen cloth and centered with mixed arrangements similar to the food table arrangement.

In front of the bandstand stood five brass single candelabra, which held the bridesmaids' bouquets and garlands of smilax.

Music for the reception was provided by Neal Smith's "Cliff Hall Orchestra".

The bride wore a short beige natural silk dress and a corsage of white tulle orchids and stephanotis for her wedding trip.

Help for troubled marriages

BELLE GLADE: "There is help for troubled marriages," the Rev. David Evans told the Marriage Workshop this week.

The four-week seminar on Christian marriage and family living has been meeting in Ringland Hall of St. John's Episcopal Church every Sunday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Ringland Hall is located at 225 NW Avenue H, next door to the Civic Center.

Rev. Evans is the new pastor of Everglades Presbyterian Church. A native Texan, he comes to Belle Glade from St. Petersburg where he served as associate minister of Meadowlark Presbyterian Church. Passing its midway point last week, the Marriage Workshop moves toward a consideration of the future of the Christian family. The Rev. Charles Farrar, coordinator for the series, emphasized that this is a non-denominational, non-sectarian venture at which no donations are accepted.

Local and visiting ministers, together with a professional marriage counselor, share their training and experience in this non-profit service to the greater Glades community. Speaking to an enthusiastic audience last Sunday, the Rev. Larry Lossing, an Episcopal priest, said: "It's no good to establish priorities if you don't clearly understand values."

Invited back to St. John's Church, which he served from 1961 to 1965, Fr. Lossing discussed the current trend toward equality between marriage partners. "Liberation is good," he noted, "if it doesn't turn out to be just more anarchy and enslavement - the Devil's old shell game."

The Marriage Workshop which ends Wednesday, Oct. 4, is grounded upon the teaching of the Holy Bible. The entire community is invited to attend. Baby-sitting is provided for mothers.

In a recent session, Mrs. Frances Gabelson, founder of Divorce Adjustment Center, West Palm Beach, told participants: "The most common mistake that most divorced persons make is getting into a new love-relationship too soon." She added: "If you can't make a success of marriage, at least make a success of divorce!"

Next Sunday evening the Rev. Arthur Dasher will speak. His topic is "Children are People too." The concluding session on Wednesday, Oct. 4, brings the Rev. Robert Atkins to Ringland hall with the topic "The Future of the Christian Family."

Sponsors of this unique inter-community undertaking are pleased with its outreach. "It just one troubled marriage can be saved," Rev. Farrar, pastor of St. John's Church declared. "The Marriage Workshop has been completely successful!"

You Can Be "Together"

BELLE GLADE: I am convinced that the normal Christian life is the Spirit-filled life. I am convinced that I should be consciously, continuously and conspicuously filled with God's Spirit. Deep in my heart it is my great longing that this should be so in my life.

In Ephesians Paul says, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ." The Holy Spirit is a Person, and when he comes into your life, he comes into your life in his totality. You do not receive the Holy Spirit as a Person by installments.

So, in Ephesians, chapter one, we have the blessings of Christ's incoming. In chapter two we have the blessings of his indwelling. In chapter three we have the blessings of his enabling. In chapter four we have the blessings of his filling. In chapter five we have the blessings of his inflating.

I want to look first at the truth of the spirit-filled life; second, the terms of the Spirit-filled life; and third, the test of the Spirit-filled life.

First, the truth of the Spirit-filled life. Paul says, "Be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit. As a wine or strong drink can control a man - affect his eyes, his lips, his brain, his hands, his speech, his gait, his appearance - so he can be controlled by the Holy Spirit. The Spirit-filled life is commanded by the Word of God. It is in the imperative: "Be filled with the Spirit." C.H. Spurgeon says, "This is not a truth or a promise to claim. This is a truth to obey." In other words, if I'm not a Spirit-filled Christian, I'm a disobedient Christian.

tian. The Word of God commands that I be filled with the Holy Spirit. Second, the terms of the Spirit-filled life. We can't fill ourselves; we have to be filled. I had always acknowledged Jesus Christ as Lord in heaven, Lord of the universe, but the reality of his Lordship had never become an intimate experience until I saw so clearly that Christ in heaven is reigning a constant fullness in the Holy Spirit, and the Lordship he represents in heaven must be true of me here. He must be sovereign in my life.

When I realized that, I dropped onto my knees and said, "O Holy Spirit, until now You've been a guest in my house. I want You to host in my house. Holy Spirit, You've been present in my life; now You're going to be president. Holy Spirit, You've been dormant in my life; now You're going to be dominant."

Has the Holy Spirit a monopoly on your life? Has he total control? Was there an initial acceptance of his control, followed by continued dependence on his control?

Dr. Handley Moule translates Ephesians 5:18 as follows: "Let your habitual normal life be that of being a constant fullness in the Holy Ghost." It's not the presence of the Holy Spirit so much as his plenitude and power. There is constant fullness. As the Word of God deepens my life, the Spirit of God fills my life, so that my capacity for the Holy Spirit's fullness tomorrow will be infinitely greater than it was yesterday; my capacity for the Holy Spirit's fullness tomorrow will be infinitely greater than for today, and life goes on in a wonderful progression of sanctification and blessings in the Holy Spirit - a truth of the Spirit-filled life.

Third, the test of the Spirit-filled life. If I am truly filled with the Holy Spirit, what is going to happen in my life? Let me state this on a practical level. It affects us in Spirit-controlled worship: "Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord; giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ; submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God" - not only is this true in our private lives, but in our public lives. Are we speaking for the Lord Jesus constantly, giving thanks publicly, sharing the good blessings of our God, sharing the benefits, sharing the tremendous tokens of his Grace and mercy upon us? Are we living in Spirit-controlled worship in the Holy Spirit? Not only is there to be Spirit-controlled worship, but Spirit-controlled warfare, touching husbands and wives, parents, children, servants, and masters. Not only is there to be Spirit-controlled worship and Spirit-controlled warfare, but Spirit-controlled warfare. For Paul goes right on the say "for we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. And for this very reason I say to you, finally my brethren, put on the whole armor of God." Stand and withstand, face the enemy. I believe that the devil is having his heyday now, and although we see a mighty spiritual resurgence which has always been true in history there is the river of apocalyptic. The devil is on his last rampage before Jesus Christ comes back again. Many years ago, a man of God said, always remember this: Pray when you don't feel like it. Pray until you do feel like it. And I thank God for those wise words. That's warfare through the Holy Spirit.

My final word to you is this: a Spirit-controlled worship, a Spirit-controlled warfare and a Spirit-controlled witness. Paul adds "and pray for me that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel for which I am an ambassador in bonds, that therein I may speak the Word of the word of God commands a Spirit-filled life. Not to obey is a sin. The work of God demands it whether it is in the church, in the home or in the world. The terms are simple: an initial acceptance of his control in my life. The Test? Your worship life will show it; your family life will show it; your witness life will show it; and you will know what it is to be consciously, continuously and conspicuously filled with the Holy Spirit.

Area Church News

ESSENTIAL TOO!

The boys on the field are carrying the bulk of the game, but all the boys on the bench are eagerly awaiting their opportunity to get in the game. Some will get to play, others won't, yet each is essential to the team. During practice each week their efforts help build a better team.

To function properly, a church must work as a team. The Pastor and his associates carry most of the load. Many others are needed to help train and teach, or do many other tasks. However whether or not you can serve the Lord in some capacity, your presence in the worship services does help you and others too.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

A TOT WAS RESCUED from the car being pulled out (above) by a Parrish Brothers wrecker and diver David Meeks last Thursday morning at the Belle Glade Marina. Two year old Jessie Lee Padgett of 833 NE 27th St. pulled the gear shift into low gear when he'd been left by his mother, Mrs. Betty Padgett, when she went into Slim's Store and drove the car into a canal. Alerted by store manager William Watson. Jessie was rescued by his grandfather, Clarence Padgett, his uncle, Dale Padgett and city employees Stan Whitlock, Benny Hughes, Eddie Becton and Thomas Rogers.

Quick action saves life of tot in submerged car

BELLE GLADE—Quick action on the part of four city employees saved a two-year old boy from drowning last Thursday when the car he was in rolled into a hyacinth-choked canal at the city marina.

Jessie Lee Padgett, 2, of 833 NW 27th St. was left alone in an automobile at 9 a.m. Thursday when his mother went into Slim's Store at the marina. Moments later, store manager William Watson noticed the car was moving from where it had been parked, just as Mrs. Betty Padgett, 20, reached the soft drink case.

Belle Glade Police Officer Dan Crist said Watson alerted the mother and both ran outside in time to watch the car roll toward the canal. Crist said the youngster had pulled the gearshift into low range.

The boy's grandfather, Clarence Padgett, 43, and uncle, Dale Padgett, 14, both of the same address, were at the boat slips near the store and when they saw the car moving toward the water, Crist said, ran toward it.

Dale Padgett, Crist said, grabbed the rear bumper to try to keep the car from going into the canal while Clarence Padgett climbed onto the roof of the rapidly submerging auto.

About the time the elder Padgett opened the door to pull the toddler out, two city employees, Eddie Becton, 23, of 655 SW 8th St. and Thomas Rogers, 35, of 300 NW Ninth St. dove in to help.

City Marina Manager Stan Whitlock and County Club employee Benny Hughes were also in the vicinity. Whitlock said that because of the hyacinths covering the water's surface, it looked for a while as though all four of the people in the water would drown.

Whitlock said he and Hughes formed a human chain between the two other city employees and Padgett, who passed the youngster to shore. The chain shortened as each of the three men in deep water were helped to the bank.

The only injury in the accident was a cut on Padgett's hand when he forced the car door open.

DAV mobile offices bring service to area

Free assistance for veterans and their families will be available locally when a field service unit of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) visits the area.

This is the fifth consecutive year that one of these 26-foot mobile offices have been in the state providing free counseling and claims service to veterans and their families.

The DAV field service unit will be at McDonald Park in Belle Glade on Oct. 9 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The traveling veterans' service facility will be manned by DAV national service officers who are fully qualified and trained to assist veterans and their families in filing claims for federal and state benefits to which they are entitled by law. These include disability compensation, pension, employment and job training, rights, educational benefits, hospitalization and medical care, Social Security and death claims.

A veteran need not be a member of the DAV to take advantage of this service.

DAV officials urge veterans of all wars, particularly disabled veterans, to take advantage of this free service by the visiting DAV mobile service unit to discuss any problems they may have concerning benefits.

Special emphasis is placed on Vietnam era veterans because many of these young men and women are not taking advantage of the benefits they've earned.

number 29, 1978. It intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting the abandonment of a portion of a line of railroad known as the Oklawaha Subdivision, extending from Oklawaha, Florida, to Belle Glade, Florida, a distance of 6.36 miles, in Palm Beach County, Florida. The line for which the abandonment application will be filed includes the non-agency station of Duda, Florida, which is located at Railroad Milepost AVF-972.14 in Oklawaha, Florida. The reason for the proposed abandonment is to eliminate an unprofitable line and to rejoin the railroad of the main line. Additionally, abandonment will enable BCL to use rail and other related materials, which will be released, elsewhere.

This line of railroad has appeared on the system diagram map in Category 1 (Section 1121.20 (N.I.), since April 29, 1977, as segment 1-FL-21.

The interest of railroad employees will not be affected, however, BCL is agreeable to protection by The Oregon Short Line Railroad, which is located at Railroad Milepost AVF-972.14 in Oklawaha, Florida. Any interested person, in response to this notice, is entitled to take either of the following actions:

(1) File with the Interstate Commerce Commission written comments containing:

(a) Exact name and address of the commenting party.

(b) Brief statement of interest in the abandonment proceeding.

(c) Specific statement of position and summary of evidence with regard to any or all of the following:

(1) Statement of financial assistance;

(2) Environmental impact;

(3) Impact on rural and community development.

(4) Suitability of the properties for other public purposes; and

(5) Recommended provisions for protection of the interests of employees.

Written comments will be considered by the Commission in all proceedings in developing conditions and in determining whether to conduct an investigation or to own notice in the event an investigation is conducted, then the commenting party may participate in the proceeding as its interest may appear.

(2) File with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition requesting that the abandonment proceeding be discontinued and proposed abandonment be discontinued.

The petition to investigate shall be in the form of a verified statement, and at the time of filing, the petitioner shall file with the Commission:

(a) Identification of petitioner, including name, address, and business;

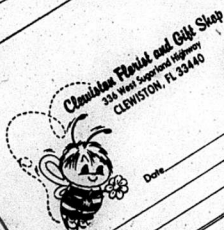

(b) Statement of petitioner's interest in the abandonment proceeding; whether the petitioner is the involved service and if so, the nature of the interest; and if not, the person or public interest it represents;

(c) Specific reason for requesting the investigation, including information with respect to petitioner's allegations

Flower Basket is moved

The Flower Basket florist shop has moved from its Avenue E location to 308 SE Avenue F in Belle Glade. Owner Joyce Shackelford said she had bought the Frances Kirchman Florist shop and has recently moved there. Her shop will still go under the name of The Flower Basket.

Mrs. Shackelford said he main difference will be offering 24 hour service. Since she will be living at her business location, she is able to do this as an extra service to her customers.

She also said she can do almost any kind of wedding since she has acquired a vast selection of wedding equipment. Mrs. Shackelford will also be offering her usual selection of plants and arrangements, as well as the American Floral Service and Teleflorist.

Mrs. Shackelford has owned The Flower Basket since December of 1976. She attended the South Florida School of Floral Design in Lake Worth before opening her shop, after working in a local shop for two years.

The Flower Basket also employs Glee Taylor who has been there since May. Ms. Taylor worked at the Aloha Artistic Flower Shop in Ft. Pierce before moving to the Glades. She has had several years of experience in the floral field.

Both women invite the public to come by their new location and see their changes. They say for all your floral needs call 996-2361 24-hours a day or come by 308 SE Avenue F in Belle Glade.

Raider Burger arrives

BELLE GLADE — The raider burgers are here! Dr. Effie C. Grear, principal of Glades Central High School and Mr. Ben McCoy, head football coach of the Raiders, received the first Raider Burger and Raider Punch Thursday morning at the local high school.

The new Raider Specialties were presented to Dr. Grear and Coach McCoy by Mrs. Robert (Barbara) Kight.

Mrs. Kight and her husband are owners of Kight's Friendly Cafe, and beginning Thursday, started serving their customers the new Raider Burger and punch.

Mrs. Kight stated that the students of GCHS are constantly supporting their business and they in return wanted to honor the students. She said it is not uncommon to find members of the student body gathering for breakfast and lunch talking 'shop talk' about the Raiders.

Mrs. Kight also stated the idea for the new specialties were her husband's and the new burger is being served between a special bun, they have purchased and covered with a special sauce made by Mr. Kight. The punch is made of a variety of mixtures Mrs. Kight said she refuses to give out.

Kight's Friendly Cafe will also be honoring the top football player each week selected by the Glades

Central Football staff after each game, and the player will be served the meal of his choice.

Off road vehicles must obtain permits

TALLAHASSEE — If you're planning to use an off-road vehicle on a wildlife management area this hunting season, don't forget to purchase a registration certificate from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Sportsmen, who operate their off-road vehicles on Florida's publicly-owned or leased lands, must be registered with the Commission after October 1. The registration fee is $10 per vehicle.

However, sportsmen do not need to purchase the Commission's registration certificate if their off-road vehicles have valid registration with the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

Off-road applicants will receive a registration certificate and decal plus a validation sticker which can be renewed annually on September 30. The decal is to be applied to the center of the left wheel fork on two- and three-wheel vehicles. It is to be prominently displayed on the left front of the body of other vehicles.

The owner's registration certificate must be available at all times for inspection upon request of any law enforcement officer.

Additional information and registration applications forms are available from the Commission's five regional offices, local county tax collectors, and the executive offices in Tallahassee.

Three are graduated from FAU

At the Close of the summer quarter, Aug. 25, 578 students were candidates for degrees to be awarded by Florida Atlantic University.

Among the graduates are three residents of Belle Glade. Gail L. Davis, Dorothy A. Tommie and Mary A. Williams were awarded bachelor's degrees from the College of Education.

Crusaders win 43-0 in first game for new team

BELLE GLADE - The Christian Day School Crusaders gave their cheerleaders something to yell about Thursday when they won their first football game 43-0. The opponent was a weak one. Westminister junior varsity, depleted of some of its top players who were showed up to the varsity team because of injuries. Head coach, Ken Lassiter, was well pleased at the Crusader effort, saying that despite Westminister's weaknesses. "We still had to have a little something to score 43 points." He was right as the Crusaders received the kickoff and in a daring fourth and three situation, went for the yards and collected them and more for a first down during the first series. The drive stayed alive and on the 16, quarterback Kent Davis connected with Tony Duboy for the first Crusader touchdown ever. The try for the point after failed, but a fumble recovery on the Westminister 30 set up the next touchdown. Those six points were rammed through by Manny Santi, 70 from the five, and instead of conversion, the hometown team elected to try for a kick by Bill Taylor. Taylor, who has never before played football, delivered the point but a penalty nullified it and he was forced to try again. It split the uprights perfectly once more and at the half, the Crusaders were ahead 13-0.

Following the kickoff, the Crusaders gained possession on downs at the Westminister 40 and drove down to the four, where Davis smuck across for six. Taylor's kick failed and on the next series, Davis got another touchdown from the five. Taylor's kick was again no good.

When the Crusaders kicked off next, a funny thing happened when the receiver, who caught the ball on the ten, then ran back into his own end zone and touched his knee to the ground, apparently thinking he could down the ball. He did, and the Crusaders were awarded a safety.

Throughout the entire fourth quarter, Lassiter used the services of the second team, who drove the ball downfield to the one, where Alex Morales smuck across for the score.

Scott Smalley ran the conversion to wind up the game for the Crusaders. Statistically, the Crusaders had nine first downs to Westminsters' three, passed eight times for four completions and 83 yards while the opposition passed three times for one interception and no yards and gathered in 155 yards rushing to the Westminister's five.

Christian Day lost two fumbles to three and both teams were penalized forty yards.

Lassiter singled out Steve Woods on offense and defense as doing an outstanding job from his tackle position. "He opened a lot of holes and was our top tackler," he said.

Bill Evans had a good game as linebacker and the top ground gainer was Arnold Quesada who ramled for 75 yards in nine carries.

Kent Davis followed Quesada

Jupiter falls before Raider's onslaught

BELLE GLADE - Glades Central head football coach Ben McCoy was looking this week toward a district champion determining game against Cardinal Newman Friday night after unleashing his own form of blitzing last Friday against a hapless band of Jupiter Warriors.

German import Johnny Rowe accounted for 26 of the Raiders' points in their 28-6 maul of Jupiter Friday night, running for 170 yards in 25 carries after having 160 more yards, including a 67-yard run to paydirt, called back on penalties.

Rowe was named Offensive Player of the Week for the second of his two games at Glades Central and for his efforts against Jupiter who named the Palm Beach Post's star Offensive Player of the Week.

In the meantime, the Raider defense, following the Warriors' opening drive may have been a little less rock-like than Gibraltar but it wasn't evident to the Jupiter players.

McCoy named Chris Ellick defensive player of the week in recognition of his ten tackles and four assists from his defensive tackle position.

"The defensive line wasn't

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK at Glades Central, for their efforts in the 28-6 win over Jupiter last Friday, were (left) Chris Ellick on defense and Johnny Rowe on offense. Coach Ben McCoy named Ellick for his 10 tackles and four assists and he said Rowe was named for rushing 170 yards in 25 carries, including four runs for touchdowns and rushing for two extra points.

coming off the football at first," McCoy said in retrospect. "Jupiter was ready to play when they came out. They beat us on that first drive but we adjusted and started coming off the ball on the line."

McCoy still wasn't completely satisfied however. "We've had four touchdowns called back in two games and we can't stand that kind of mistake. We had two 60-yard-plus scoring runs called back and the energy burned up on those plays could hurt us."

He was happier in other areas of the Raiders' play however. "The offensive line looked really improved." He was also high on reserve quarterback Reginald Jerigan, who replaced starting quarterback Terry Hammond when Hammond was injured in the second quarter.

"Reginald came in and moved the team when Hammond was hurt," he said. "He handled himself well. Let's face it, we have two damn good quarterbacks."

An indication of how well the Jupiter game went was that the Raiders only attempted seven passes. "That was low for me," McCoy said, "but our running game was working, so why change?"

In the scoring, Jupiter drew first blood when the Warriors accepted the opening kickoff and returned the ball 61 yards on 12 plays for six points. The extra point was blocked.

The Raiders came back immediately with an 86 yard drive in ten plays, culminating in a three-yard TD run by Rowe. The extra point was attempted and missed by Wilford Morgan.

Morgan vindicated himself early in the second quarter when he pounced on a fumbled ball on the Warrior 11-yard line, setting up the Raiders' second score in two possessions. Three plays later, Rowe ran over from the five and then ran in for a two-point conversion, giving the Raiders a 13-6 edge.

The Warriors came close to evening the score twice in that quarter, with the first threat choked off on a fluke play when a Jupiter pass bounced off the hands of a receiver, then off the head of a linebacker Leon Sadley for a Raider interception.

The Raiders returned the compliment on the next play, by throwing an interception into the hands of a Jupiter player...setting up a field goal attempt three plays later.

The ball went between the uprights but the three-pointers gave the Raiders a choice of whether to go again for the three points or attempt a fourth down conversion.

Jupiter went for the first down and was cut off by the Raider defense, ending the Warriors' final real threat.

The Raiders put on a strong offensive show in the third quarter but penalties nullified several long gains, including a 50-yard kickoff return by Greg Bain, a 67-yard touchdown run by Rowe and another long run by Archie Godfrey.

Gators score at will on hapless Orlando Trinity

BELLE GLADE - Even with the second string playing much of the third and virtually all of the fourth quarters, the Glades Day Gators scored virtually at will Saturday and shut out Orlando Trinity 35-0. It was the Gator's third straight shut-out this season and the fourth if you count the two quarters of jamboree before the regular season began.

The Gators gave Trinity a taste of what was to come in the first quarter when they scored 21 points. Steve Richie got the first touchdown with a 23-yard run and Winston Byrd picked up the second two on a 32-yard run and a one-yard plunge.

Mark Foster kicked all three extra points and wound up 5-6 for the game.

In the second inning, Byrd picked up his third touchdown on a two yard run and in the third, his fourth on a 14-yard run.

By the end of the third quarter, Coach Byron Walker had put his second string into action, pulling them only to preserve the shutout.

The victory was made even greater by the fact Glades Day has held a state A ranking and Orlando was rambled eighth.

Leading the Gators was Byrd, who ran 14 times for 142 yards and four touchdowns. He was followed closely by Richie who went ten times for 107 yards and a touchdown.

Jason Shelton rambled 75 yards in eight carries and others gaining yardage included Ed Ballard with 68; Basil Markham, 30; Nacho Bueno, 37; Jeff McMillan, 16 and Greg Chancey, four.

Statistically, the game is reflected in the 478 yards gained by the Gators to Orlando's 145. The Gators passed three times; with Bueno connecting with Byrd once for 14 yards while Orlando tried 17 passes, completing four for 85 yards with three interceptions.

The sore point for the Gators was losing five fumbles, a point that has cropped up in the other two games this year, said Walker.

On defense, the head coach said Mitch Strickland led with eight tackles and an assist with Richie, Markham and Ballard all collecting interceptions and Foster Corraling a fumble.

This Friday night, the Gators come home to face Benjamin, now 0-1 in the district but 2-1 overall. Benjamin is expected to stay in the air, said Walker, attacking what he terms his "crippled" secondary. Quique Echave, the safety he was leaning heavily upon this season, is still out suffering a collarbone injury suffered in the opening game.

"This will be a good test for us," said Walker. "We'll have to stop their air attack."

Walker also reported another Gator injured. Manuel Phillips suffered a knee injury and will be out for at least two weeks and possibly the rest of the season.

Rallye winds up in Punta Gorda

BELLE GLADE — Troy Martin and Randy Davis lost only three minutes and 12 seconds on their first time out to win the first Belle Glade Overnighter Road Rallye Saturday and Sunday in approximately 300 miles of driving from here to Punta Gorda and back.

This was the first time Martin and Miss Davis had entered a rallye and their penalty time was off the total theoretical driving time of six hours, 25 minutes and 34 seconds.

Don Parton and Robin Collins came in second place as the Lake Park team picked up a total of 4:29 penalty time.

Third was Ron and Billie Snyder with 5:11, fourth were Bill and Louise Mathis with 9:19 and Susan Crosby and Deb-a Ellington won fifth place as the Clewiston Team came in with 10:42 penalty time.

There were a total of 14 cars entered in the rallye and the longest penalty time recorded was three hours even. At the end of the rallye, those who had run it voted to have nothing but two-day rallyes in the future.

The next rallye is tentatively scheduled for January and Ron and Linda Sigmon will be the rallymasters.

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS in the Belle Glade Slow Pitch Softball League were Raul Paez, who won a trophy for home runs, and Nick Malden, who holds trophies for Most Valuable Player, best batting average (.600) and being on the number one team, Sunshine Sod.

Commercial fishing rules are changed

ORLANDO — Commercial fishing on Lake Okechobee will be different in the future as a result of action taken by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

As its meeting Friday in Orlando, the Commission approved some modifications to the two-year-old Lake Okechobee Fisheries Utilization and Management Program.

One of the modifications will result in the halt of commercial fishing of certain scale fish from October 15 to December 5. However, catfish as well as shad and gar may be taken by trotline and wire traps during the closed season.

The Commission authorized the Executive Director to issue a limited number of special haul seine permits for a closely monitored experimental seining program during the closed season to determine the effects of haul seining on game fish.

Additionally, the price of fish tags will be increased by one cent to help defray the expenses of operating the program and wire traps will be allowed in waters of Okechobee which permit three feet of clearance between the highest point of the trap and the water surface.

Devils to play in Belle Glade

The Pahokee High School (PHS) Blue Devils football team will play the Fort Myers Bishop Verot Vikings on the Glades Central Football field Saturday night, according to a PHS spokesman.

Originally scheduled for Friday night at the Blue Devils home field, the game will be played in Belle Glade because new lights and bleachers at the Pahokee field are not yet finished.

The game will begin at 8 p.m. and all season tickets and passes will be honored.

Crusaders

With 43 yards, of which most were "straight up the middle" quarterback sneaks and Gene Bair earned a starting position for the upcoming game because of his good defensive effort in the last quarter.

This Saturday the Crusaders go up against Broward Christian at 8 in Fort Lauderdale. Lassiter said he had scouted Christian and found them to be small in numbers and size but equipped with a scrappy defense.

"I fell like we'll be able to move the ball on them, however," said the young head coach.

Raiders

Rowe's third touchdown of the night came with 1:11 left in the third period, on a four-yard run capping a 72-yard drive. Morgan kicked the extra point.

To make sure of a score in extra quarter, Rowe scored again with 2:11 left in the game, leaving the extra point kick to Morgan.

Other running backs for the Raiders included Godfrey, who picked up 61 yards in six carries, including one TD called back on a clipping penalty, Greg Bain, who sped 45 yards in two carries, complementing his pass interception on defense, with a 28-yard run-back, and Carl Harper, with 17 yards in three carries.

On defense, Wilford Morgan followed Chris Ellick's effort with eight tackles and four assists and recovered a fumble with a 41-yard run-back. Willis Gibson made seven tackles and six assists and intercepted a pass to make a 29-yard run-back.

Reddie Garrett made seven tackles and three assists, Tommy Wilson made six tackles and three assists and Leon Sedley made four tackles and three assists in addition to his intercepted pass he ran back 16 yards.

The Raiders picked up a total of 293 yards rushing and 47 more in the air for a total offense of 340 yards. Jupiter picked up 181 yards on the ground and another 58 passing for 239 yards.

Pahokee stuns Atlantic with quick scoring 22-14

A pair of touchdowns during the first two minutes of play against the Atlantic Eagles set the wheels in motion Friday night for a 22-14 victory for the Pahokee High School Blue Devils.

It was a much needed win for the Blue Devils, who slipped in district ranking as a result of their first two losses to Suncoast and Clewiston.

According to head coach Antonio Russell, the win and the outlook for the future puts Pahokee "in pretty good shape" in the Suncoast Conference. However, someone will have to knock out Clewiston to put Pahokee in the running for a district title.

"I don't think it will happen," he said.

The Blue Devils' first score Friday night was made on a 65-yard pass from quarterback Ronald Osborne to receiver Stanford Everett during the first play of the game.

The extra point attempt failed.

Pahokee's second score came seconds later when split end Ned Baldwin picked up an Atlantic fumble on the Blue Devil 5-yard line and ran it 95 yards for a touchdown. Osborne then threw to Leonard Jones for two points, giving the Blue Devils a 14-0 lead at about two minutes into the game.

Atlantic's only two scores came during the remaining minutes of the first half.

A Blue Devil fumble set Atlantic up for a score on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Alfred Sloan to split end Paul Davis with 4:19 left in the first quarter.

The Eagles tied the score during the second quarter when Sloan jumped on an errant pass by Pahokee's Osborne that bounced into the end zone. The tying point was made by Atlantic's Gerry Jaeger with 9:32 left in the half.

Pahokee's winning score came later in the third quarter on a 70-yard Osborne to Everett pass. That play was set up when the Blue Devils intercepted an Eagles pass into the end zone after they advanced to the Pahokee 4-yard line.

After Friday night's win Russell said he felt his team is finally back into "good shape." After losing to Clewiston last week he said that his team wasn't playing the type of ball that it was accustomed to playing. "Everyone played a good game," he said. "The offensive line held (the Eagles) people and gave Osborne time to throw, but I feel the credit needs to go to the whole team."

Much of Pahokee's running yardage was gained by Joe Louis Miller and Sylvester Keller, he said. The team's defensive efforts were led by Sam Pompy, Osmond Edwards, Frank Walker and Miller, he added.

Russell did not discount Pahokee's "breaks" in the interceptions made by Baldwin and Leonard Banks.

"Atlantic was big and physical, but they made key mistakes," he said. "They had good running backs, but their weak point was on passing."

This Saturday the Blue Devils will have a chance to even their record when they play the Bishop Verot Vikings of Fort Myers. Verot was shut out 7-0 by Glades Day in its opening match three weeks ago.

Russell said his team will face the Vikings without really knowing what to expect. Lacking game films of Verot's current performance the Blue Devils will have to rely on what information they can get from previous scouting.

Russell is looking at the upcoming match expecting the worst, but hoping for the best. "I never works on good techniques," he explained. "They are another 2A team playing as hard as a 3A team, and they're looking to knock us off."

That game will begin at 8 p.m. at the Glades Central stadium in Belle Glade. According to Pahokee High School Athletic Department spokesmen, all season tickets and passes will be honored at the gate.

Baby Gators win in season opener

BELLE GLADE — The Glades Day Junior Varsity football team overcame five fumbles to move ahead of Kings Academy JV last Thursday 12-0.

Coech Dick Schmidt said three lost fumbles in the first quarter was the only thing that prevented the baby Gators from scoring. One key fumble was on the four yard line.

But in the second quarter, Scott Meredith punched through 11 yards for a Gator touchdown to culminate a 70 yard drive. The conversion try failed and the Gators led 6-0 into the third quarter.

Hapless Kings could only get possession twice during the second half, the Gators keeping the ball on one series for nine minutes, only to lose the opportunity on a fumble at the 15.

But on the last play of the game, Julio Rivas, got the only other touchdown on an eight yard run. The Gators declined to try for a point after.

In total yards, the Gators led with 216 to 37. All but 12 of those yards came on the ground. The Gators had 15 first downs to a pair for Kings and were penalized 45 yards to the Kings' 56.

Two offensive standouts were Rivas who rushed 15 times for 95 yards and Meredith, who collected 37 yards on 12 tries.

Defensively, Manuel Perez led with five tackles and four assists followed by Richard Schiele with four tackles, two assists, Rivas with three tackles and three assists and Gary Herick, Arnold

Moore and Bart Brayon with three tackles, two assists each.

Schmidt said he was well satisfied with the execution the Gators turned in during the game, and the only real mistakes made were the fumbles.

The Gator JV takes on Moore Haven's JV tonight (Thursday) at home beginning at 7:30 p.m.
